Work-Related Serious Injury Reporting Policy and Procedures

Revised: April 11, 2024

The City and County of San Francisco (CCSF) is required to comply with the California Department of Industrial Relations, Division of Occupational Safety and Health (Cal/OSHA) reporting regulations for employee injuries. This guidance provides City departments with information on how to appropriately report employee injuries to meet state requirements.

Requirement to Report Work-Related Serious Injury or Fatality in City Workplace or Worksite

A work-related fatality or serious injury must be reported within eight hours¹ to the nearest Cal/OSHA District Office as outlined by Title 8, Section 342(a) of the California Code of Regulations (CCR).

Serious injury reporting is required whenever a City employee or contractor experiences any of the following:

- Death while engaged in work activities for the City at any location;
- Death at a City facility or worksite; or
- A serious injury is defined as a:
 - loss of any significant tissue, bone, or body part;
 - o permanent disfigurement; or
 - o any hospitalization except for routine observational or diagnostic testing.

Injuries that do not meet the definition of a 'serious injury' as described above should not be reported to Cal/OSHA. If you are unclear if the injury meets the serious injury threshold, please reach out to Tyler Nguyen, Citywide Safety Officer at tyler.nguyen@sfgov.org for clarification.

Employer violations for late or non-reporting are subject to a mandatory minimum $5,000 penalty per occurrence, per Title 8, California Code of Regulations (8 CCR) § 336(a)(6), payable by the department of seriously injured employee.

¹ Regardless of whether or not a contractor's direct employer reports the incident, the conditions above must be reported to the nearest Cal/OSHA district office within eight hours of the incident.

Emergency Responder Reporting of Work-Related Serious Injury or Fatality

State, county, or local fire or police agencies must also report the incident to Cal/OSHA when called to the scene of a work-related fatality or serious injury. The San Francisco Fire Department (SFFD) serves as the emergency responder to report these injuries to Cal/OSHA when a serious injury occurs within San Francisco. SFFD records the notifications in its internal tracking system.

Step-by-Step Procedure in the Event of a Potentially Reportable Death or Serious Injury

Due to the importance of the immediate reporting obligation and its complexity, the following steps guide the investigation and reporting whenever a death or serious injury associated with any City facility or activity occurs:

1. Immediately Investigate the Incident and Report to Cal/OSHA

The Department Representative needs to immediately perform an incident investigation and collect all pertinent facts and information (as discussed above) to determine whether the incident meets the definition of a serious injury or illness and whether required reporting information is available. Departments may utilize the Reporting Work-Related Serious Injuries and Fatalities to City Employees Form (below) to collect the required information.

2. Notify Your Department Head, Department Health & Safety Officer, and the Citywide Safety Officer

Notify Your Department Head, Department Health & Safety Officer, and Citywide Safety Officer Tyler Nguyen confirming that you have notified Cal/OSHA of the work-related serious injury or fatality along with the date and time reported.

3. Complete Workers' Compensation Report for Injuries and Illnesses

If the incident involves a City employee and there is knowledge or suspicion that the injury or illness is related to their employment, the Department Representative must also complete the Employer's Report of Occupational Injury or Illness (Form 5020) and provide the employee with a Workers' Compensation Claim Form (DWC-1) to complete within 24 hours of knowledge of the incident. If the employee is incapacitated and unable to receive or complete the DWC-1, the Department Representative shall immediately submit the Form 5020 to the Workers' Compensation Division by email at ccsf.workcomp@sfgov.org.
